Hello!

Business intelligence `s importance grows higher and higher everyday and I can bring my knowledge with 6 years experience in internet technology world, compatible teamwork, accurate and result oriented work style and excellent business communication. I have been in many projects for multinational companies and their agencies. All these works and experiences had a great role for my technical business intelligence that are improved greatly my proactive, foresight and analytic skills.

What Can I Do

Knowledge is everything today `s world and it determines how powerful you are by not only having it also using it accurately. I always see myself that mine biggest qualification is dealing with data but showing how to use it and analysing it are most important sides for me. I also like using data with graphical elements to make it understandable by everyone. You can see the list below that it shows my qualifications in every aspect. I can be more from that if you needed...
